FAMOUS OLD SEA FIGHTER DIES AT SOUTHERN HOME

Admiral Henry Grinnell, Hero of Three Wars, Succumbs in St. Augustine, Fla.

(By Associated Press.)
BOSTON, Sept. 3.—The death in St. Augustine, Fla., yesterday of Henry Walton Grinnell, a naval veteran of the "Confederate" and Spanish Wars, who became an admiral in the Imperial Japanese Navy, became known to relatives in this city today. His work in the training of seamen was said to have been largely responsible for the development of the Japanese navy which turned back the Russian fleet.

Born in New Bedford eighty-four years ago, Grinnell fought with Farragut at New Orleans and received honorable mention for gallantry. He left the navy as a lieutenant at the close of the War between the States and went to Japan, serving throughout the Chinese-Japanese War. He was made a rear-admiral of the new Japanese navy for his part in its quick growth to sea power.

At the outbreak of the Spanish-American War he volunteered for service in the United States Navy and became lieutenant on the battleship Iowa.

He married Miss Florence M. Roche, daughter of James Jeffrey Roche, in this city, ten years ago. In recent years he had spent most of his time in the Southern States, where he was engaged in the study of the Japanese navy.

Grinnell's father was Moses Grinnell, of New York, who financed several Arctic expeditions. The admiralty committee consists of Dr. D. K. Walthall, of Waynesboro; Dr. J. H. Lacy, of Winchester, and the Rev. J. J. Armstrong, of Louisa. Reports showed that the 1,000 women of the auxiliary have contributed $164,219 to benevolences and various causes during the past year, a per capita of $1.42.

The auxiliary has built and is maintaining a mission house, a home for indigent women, a day school, and two scholarships in the assembly's training school at Richmond, and contributes liberally to the conference for negro women at Tuscaloosa, Ala.

Life in the Philippines.
C. M. H. New Market. The cost of living in the Philippines is something greater than it is in this country. Food prices are higher, but the comparative comfort and enjoy good health in the islands, an American should dress in cottons, as do the natives, avoid alcoholic beverages, eat sparingly of meats, shun sun-baked places in the middle of the day. An estimate of the population is 8,000,000, of whom 1,000,000 are civilized. Racially the inhabitants are principally Malays.

Navel Oranges.
Miss R. B. N. Appalachia. Navel oranges are propagated by budding. From the new growth of a tree, the fruit of which is wanted, is cut the size just before the leaf puts out. This is put in a cross-shaped hole in the stock of the tree to be grafted, and a wrapping of oiled silk is applied. The end of ten days the bud will have taken. From the bud of clothing tree, the tree will bear fruit. The tree it came from. The original navel orange was a freak; buds from its tree were used on other trees.
